Sheriff announces Shout Out Box Program in schools

Sheriff Niemeier has announced that the Bracken County Sheriff's Office and the Kentucky Crime Prevention Coalition has partnered with the Bracken County School System to place Shout Out Boxes in all the schools. These boxes are designed to improve our school environment by providing them with the tools necessary to aid in their success. One of the key components of our youth program is REPORTING. In order to create an effective method of this reporting system, the KCPC will supply a free special key lock, wall mounting, metal mailbox to each of the schools in the Bracken County School system to include the High School, Junior High and Elementary schools.

The boxes will be mounted within the school buildings, affixed with the "Shout Out Box" label, advertised throughout the school with the free "Shout Out Box" Posters, and ready for students to begin their anonymous system of reporting. These boxes can be used by students to report violence, smoking, stealing, cheating, weapons, drugs and bullying or other miscellaneous issues. Reporting by students can be totally anonymous or the student can give their name if they wish to do so. Students can band together to do the Right Thing to protect themselves or to protect a friend. mously reporting things that are occurring in your school you can help make a difference and to help prevent bad things from happening in and around your school.

In addition to reporting the above, students can also use these boxes to make suggestions to the schools on how to improve services that are provided to the students and the school. Sheriff Niemeier and Superintendent Tony Johnson are asking that students take advantage of this program to report issues that they are having, especially those within the Bracken County School System. Students have an opportunity to be a part of making a Positive Change within their School System by reporting suspicious or criminal activities.

PHI Air Medical Launches Community-Wide Education Effort

Campaign is designed to educate and raise awareness of issues affecting women's heart health

PHI Air Medical announced Fri., Feb. 3rd a major community wide effort to educate the community and raise awareness for heart disease, especially as it relates to women's heart issues.

"As a company, we understand first-hand the devastating impact heart disease has on the women and families of our community", explained, Erik Rohde, Regional Director. "We are committed to doing everything we can to raise awareness on this important issue. Our entire focus is to be proactive for the health of our community so that we don't have to be called to transport another victim of heart disease."

PHI Air Medical's air ambulance services fly tens of thousands of cardiac patients each year across the country. Equipped with the latest in intra-aortic balloon pumps and various other advanced life-saving devices, PHI Air Medical is often the best and last chance for a person with heart issues, especially in rural areas.

Long before PHI or others are called to transport heart patients, there are important signs to look for and lifestyle changes that can be made. The facts regarding heart disease in women can be startling:

- 1 in 4 women dies from

Taking women's heart health awareness to new heights.

heart disease

- Heart disease is the number one killer of women regardless of race or ethnicity
- Two-thirds of women who have heart attacks, never fully recover
- Women account for more than 60% of all stroke deaths

Most people are unaware that heart disease is the number one killer of women in the U.S. Simple changes in diet and lifestyle can greatly aid in the chances for women to live longer, healthier and more productive lives.

"People ask why we are so passionate about this issue. The answer is that these women represent our mothers, sisters, wives, as well as the thousands of women we work with in the community and throughout PHI," continued Erik Rohde. "We are committed to raising awareness for this important cause because we believe that knowledge is the best prevention when it comes to matters of the heart."

Two Minutes WITH THE BIBLE

by Cornelius R. Stam, Founder
 Berean Bible Society
 PO Box 756 Germantown, WI 53022

FELLOWSHIP WITH GOD

by Cornelius R. Stam

Man, by nature, is afraid of God. When Adam first sinned, he should have gone immediately to God to beg for mercy and forgiveness. Instead he did just what millions are doing today: he ran and hid from God so that God had to come and look for Him, as it were, calling: "Adam... where art thou?" (Gen. 3:9).

Many people who consider themselves as good, morally, as those about them, or even better, nevertheless feel utterly ill-at-ease in a place of worship, where believers pray and praise God together. This is because in their heart of hearts they know that they have "sinned and come short of the glory of God" (Rom. 3:23).

Such, however, may come to know, love and enjoy God through faith in Christ. He was Himself God manifested in the flesh, come to earth in love to pay for our sins on Calvary's cross, so that we might have "redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins according to the riches of His grace" (Eph. 1:7).

Concerning those who respond in grateful faith and trust in the crucified, risen, glorified Lord for salvation, the Apostle Paul says:

"Therefore, being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; by whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God" (Rom. 5:2).

Peace with God, and the fellowship which naturally results from this is the most precious treasure the human heart can contain. Yet our fellowship with Him here on earth is but the beginning. Read carefully Ephesians 5:25-27 and see how He took upon Him human form, and died, that He might have us for Himself forever:

"...Christ... loved the Church, and gave Himself for it... that He might present it to Himself a glorious Church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish."

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN by Barbara Browning

We should all hold to our hearts the fact that "The Jesus I Love—He is Lord!" That was our sermon last Sunday. You cannot have Jesus the Savior without taking Jesus as Lord. Several people had worn red that Sunday in honor of women's heart health.

PRESBYTERIAN POTPOURRI

*Les Grooms, pastor
Augusta Presbyterian*

We had a wonderful Wednesday luncheon, as we served approx. 60 lunches to the wonderful people of our community at The Bread Basket Meal. Dave England and I were both pleased and surprised as the whole room broke out in "Happy Birthday To You"! We both were celebrating birthdays last week. Christian fellowship is such a wonderful gift of encouragement given to us by our Father, and we surely love to avail ourselves of just that!

I hear we had a challenging worship service Sun. morning as the heat wasn't on and it was quite cold in the sanctuary. However, warm hearts and desire to worship won over the situation, and everyone was blessed by our visiting friend, Roger Cheesbro. He always brings such blessing in word and song.

Kay and I are taking a time of rest and relaxation for a few days. When we return we are looking forward to the beginning of the Community Lenten Services, starting on Wed., Feb. 22 at St. Augustine Church. We look forward to seeing you there!

NEW LIFE FELLOWSHIP Doug Tucker, pastor by Beverly Whittaker

We welcome all that came to worship with us this past Lord's day, February 12. Angela Tucker sang the special this morning entitled "Feel The Nails". Pastor Doug concluded the series on spiritual warfare. The text was from Ephesians 6:10-18. We are to put on the armor of God and fight with the authority of God to take our stand against the devil's schemes.

There will be no Wednesday evening meal or prayer service this week due to the Valentine's Day Banquet on Tues., Feb. 14.

Winter Jam 2012 will be March 17 at U.S. Bank Arena in Cincinnati, OH. at 6 p.m. We will be taking the church van. More details to follow.

We invite you to our services. Pastor Jeremiah Hansen is teaching in the Adult Kingdom Builder's classes about the veils that can block our way in serving the Lord. It is a very informative series that will help us in our daily walk with God. We have Kingdom Builder's classes for all ages at 9:30 a.m. and praise and worship service is at 10:30 a.m. There is Junior Church for grades kindergarten through 5th grades and nursery for 3 years and younger. Remember God loves you and so do we! Have a great week!

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I grew up attending Concord United Methodist Church. I remember when using the restroom required going outdoors and potlucks could get a little messy without a kitchen sink. However, in the thirty-seven years I have attended this church, I can never remember discussing sex, drugs, or rock and roll! While I'm certain the "Sex, Drugs and Rock-n-Roll" sermon series title grabbed everyone's attention, it certainly came with mixed emotions from our congregation. I'll have to admit, it motivated me even more to get my butt to church on Sunday.

Throughout the series, Pastor Yancy did an excellent job of defining and explaining sex and how God meant for it to be. He discussed everything from heroin to any other "drug" that may come between us and our relationship with God. He highlighted the fact that we often judge people by their looks and that people of pop culture do not want a church that doesn't make a difference. We must renew our minds and find a balance with God and the "sex, drugs and rock and roll" in our lives. These topics MUST be discussed for us to better understand the world around us.

I feel Pastor Yancy wants to meet us where we are and help us get to where God wants us to be. If you need someone to walk with you and provide guidance and counseling in a nonjudgmental atmosphere, meet us at Concord at 11 am on Sundays! We hope to see you there!

Senior Drivers' Awareness of Changing Lights

Older drivers ought to do everything they can to improve their situational awareness and reaction time. Any effort to hold on to a driver's license and maintain a safe driving record should include regular eye exams, which can help seniors assess the development of cataracts and any effect they may have. The lens clouding associated with cataracts makes it more likely that seniors will experience problems with "contrast sensitivity". Cataracts create contrast sensitivity limitations by scattering light before it hits the retina, making it seem as though dirty glasses. With this in mind, it is in their best interests for seniors to have their eyes checked annually, especially if changes in vision are evident.

Seeing better starts with the exemplary eye care we supply. At KENTUCKY EYE INSTITUTE, we provide full-service eyecare for people of all ages. Our ophthalmology experts offer eye care ranging from routine eye exams to the diagnosis, care and surgical treatment of eye disorders. We welcome you to our practice. We care about and appreciate our patients and want to be sensitive to their needs. We're located at 1937 Old Main St., Maysville, where it is our desire to assist you in maintaining the precious gift of vision. Please call us at 606-759-7883 or 800-658-7282 to schedule an appointment for quality eye care. We specialize in "EYE CARE FOR ALL AGES".

P.S. Cataracts can inhibit seniors' driving ability by increasing sensitivity to glare.

The Link between Diabetes & Cardiovascular Disease

By the National Diabetes Education Program

What is the link between diabetes and cardiovascular disease (CVD)?

· CVD is a major complication of diabetes and the leading cause of early death among people with diabetes—about 65 percent of people with diabetes die from heart disease and stroke.

· Adults with diabetes are two to four times more likely to have heart disease or suffer a stroke than people without diabetes.

· High blood glucose in adults with diabetes increases the risk for heart attack, stroke, angina, and coronary artery disease. 1

· People with type 2 diabetes also have high rates of high blood pressure, lipid problems, and obesity, which contribute to their high rates of CVD. 2

· Smoking doubles the risk of CVD in people with diabetes.

What is the national response to this major health problem?

The National Diabetes Education Program (NDEP) works in collaboration with many partner organizations to reduce illness and death from CVD in people with diabetes. NDEP’s Control Your Diabetes. For Life. education campaign strives to help health care professionals and their patients control the multiple risk factors associated with CVD and diabetes. It also helps people with diabetes learn how to reduce their risk of diabetes kidney, eye, and nerve disease. The campaign focuses on comprehensive control of diabetes and urges optimal management of A1C (a measure of average blood glucose), Blood pressure, and Cholesterol. The ABC treatment goals for most people with diabetes are:

A - A1C (blood glucose) less than 7 percent

B - Blood Pressure less than 130/80 mmHg

C - Cholesterol – LDL less than 100 mg/dl

What are the benefits to people with diabetes when they control their ABCs?

The United Kingdom Prospective Diabetes Study, 3 the Diabetes Control and Complications

Trial/Epidemiology of Diabetes Interventions and Complications 1 study, and other clinical trials have demonstrated the following benefits of optimal control of the ABCs of diabetes:

· Intensive glucose control reduces the risk of any CVD event by 42 percent and the risk of heart attack, stroke, or death from CVD by 57 percent. 1

· In general, every percentage point drop in A1C blood test results (e.g., from 8.0 percent to 7.0 percent) reduces the risk of diabetes, kidney, eye, and nerve disease by 40 percent. 2

· Blood pressure control reduces the risk of CVD among persons with diabetes by 33 percent to 50 percent, and the risk of diabetic kidney, eye, and nerve disease by approximately 33 percent. 2 In general, for every 10 mm Hg reduction in systolic blood pressure, the risk for any complication related to diabetes is reduced by 12 percent. 2, 3

· Improved control of cholesterol or blood lipids (for example, HDL, LDL, and triglycerides) can reduce CVD complications by 20 percent to 50 percent. 2

How well are people meeting therapy goals for diabetes and CVD?

National surveys of people with diabetes show that there still is a wide gap between current and desired diabetes care. For example:

· only 7.3 percent of people surveyed were at goal for all three ABCs of diabetes 4

· two in five have poorly controlled LDL cholesterol

· one in three has poorly controlled blood pressure

· one in five has poorly controlled blood glucose. 5

What can people with diabetes do to lower their CVD risk?

People with diabetes can work with their health care team to develop and use an action plan to reach their ABC goals. An action plan can help people to:

· Reach and stay at a healthy weight. Being overweight or obese is a risk factor for heart attack and stroke.

· Get at least 30 to 60 minutes of physical activity. Brisk walking or a similar activity most days of the week can help with weight loss and lower blood pressure.

· Eat foods that are low in saturated fats, trans fats, cholesterol, salt (sodium), and added sugars – choose lean meats, poultry, fish, nuts (in small amounts), fatfree or lowfat milk, and milk products.

· Eat more fiber – whole grains, fruits, vegetables, and dry peas and beans.

· Stop smoking – or ask their health care team for help to quit. Smoking is one of the major risk factors associated with heart attack and stroke.

· Take medications as directed – and ask their doctor about taking daily aspirin.

· Ask family and friends to help them manage their diabetes. This support can help people reach their goals.

How can NDEP help?

NDEP provides free materials to help people with diabetes understand the link between diabetes and CVD and to take action to manage the ABCs of diabetes and lower their risk for CVD. Materials are available in English, Spanish, and 15 Asian and Pacific Islander languages. All materials include a record form to track the ABCs of diabetes test results and monitor progress toward goals.

For free copies of NDEP’s materials about the ABCs of diabetes, call 1-800-438-5383 or visit www.ndep.nih.gov and click on diabetes control. These materials may be downloaded, reproduced, and distributed without copyright restrictions - or visit www.ndep.nih.gov to learn more.

TRASH TALK

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug

Howdy Folks! This message is somewhat belated, but we hope everyone had a great Valentine’s Day! As you all know, this article is written on Monday and this has been another Monday spent in the hospital with our son, Larry. It has been a very difficult year for him so far and we ask that you please keep him in your prayers. Many times we have expressed our appreciation for living in this small community where family, friends and neighbors are always willing to lend a helping hand. Whether you are an old hand at dealing with medical problems or just beginning, it is a whole different world and as we learn the ins and outs of the medical profession, we are grateful for the doctors, nurses and staff at the hospitals and doctors’ office!

Roll-off dumpsters have been delivered to Foster and Johnsville, and on our way to the hospital Monday morning, we noticed that the Johnsville dumpster was being used. Even though it was a cold weekend, we were happy to see that folks got to the roll-offs. Please remember to fill these dumpsters as evenly as possible so that more trash can be put into the container and more folks can get the use of them.

With the days flying by, it won’t be too long until we get our first road clean organized, beginning the last full week in March to be exact. We always like to coordinate this first clean with Commonwealth Cleanup Week and of course, we will be hosting our sixth Annual C.U.B. Party, better known as CleanUp Bracken Week. Those who do any type of outdoor activity are eligible to enter, from age four to eighty-four and beyond! The cash prize of $100 will be presented to the random drawing winner of all entries. With the roll-offs in place during that week, it will make it even easier to “clean up and enter”! The little kids (since they are closer to the ground) can pick up debris in the yard, and age appropriate clean up tasks can be performed from grade school and up. We are looking forward to getting more entries this year and hope that you have already drawn up your clean up plan!

Taylor Elementary had a plan last week to ensure the safety of their students in case of emergencies. Ms. Bug spoke to the three pre-school classes and while there was able to participate in an earthquake drill, a lock-down drill and a fire drill. With grandchildren in the school, it was very comforting to know that these drills are conducted on a regular basis and with such professionalism. We also congratulate the teachers and staff of the pre-school classes on an excellent teaching job concerning recycling!

As we noted, Valentine’s Day has come and gone, but the Farmer’s Almanac told of a married couple who had gone to a Marriage Seminar. They listened intently as the seminar instructor explained that husbands and wives should know each other’s likes and dislikes and asked if the husbands could name their wife’s favorite flower. The young husband touched his wife’s arm proudly and whispered, “It’s Pillsbury isn’t it?” We can only hope that he followed that statement up with a bouquet of flowers and not a sack of flour! Our spring flowers are poking their heads through the ground and hope that spring weather is not too far off. As you start your spring cleaning, exercise the good habits of RECYCLING, REUSING and REDUCING to keep God’s earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seen’ you – Bin & Bug.

The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon. If the total purchase price is not paid in cash, the required deposit shall be applied to any expenses incurred by a default of the purchaser. Provided, however, in the event a party of this action is the successful bidder at the sale of the property by the Master Commissioner, then the said party, upon payment of the court costs and sale expenses and any liens or judgments that have been given priority herein over the lien and judgment of said successful bidder/party, shall have its bid credited against its judgment herein.

If the purchaser(s) fails to comply with the terms of the sale then, in such event, the Master Commissioner shall immediately resell the property upon the same terms and conditions as set forth herein, excepting only any necessary changes in the time and date of sale. Possession of the property herein sold shall be given to the purchaser after payment in full of the purchase price and confirmation of the sale by the Bracken Circuit Court. Pursuant to the Judgment herein, the purchaser shall be required to assume and pay all ad valorem property taxes assessed against the property for 2012 and all subsequent years thereafter. The title interest of the parties to the lawsuit will be conveyed without warranty by the Master Commissioner to the purchaser and the purchaser shall receive a deed to property upon payment of the purchase price in full (and costs of sale, if applicable) and after confirmation of the sale by Bracken Circuit Court, subject to any equity of redemption if the property does not sell for two-thirds of its appraised value.

8th Grade Constitution Simulation winners announced at BCMS

Bracken County Middle School 8th graders just completed their second simulation of the year. In the Constitution simulation students were assigned to factions based on how they rated the United States on a Democracy Scale. Once in a faction, they divided the states for each delegate to represent. Students chose amendments to support and completed amendment justifications, which they would use to convince other delegates to support their amendments. Students received points for getting the Rules Committee to put amendments onto the proposal agenda, convincing delegates to propose their amendments with a 2/3 majority vote, and convincing the states to ratify the amendments by a ¾ majority. Winners included: Kolton Williams, Jesse Moore, Emily Farrow, and Bailey Cummins.

Third graders work on critical thinking activity at Taylor

Mrs. Anna Weiss conducted a learning activity to promote critical thinking for her third-grade students last week at Taylor Elementary. Weiss began by taking a large photograph and cutting it into four sections, creating a puzzle. Students were divided into four groups and each group was given a section of the photograph. The students were asked to write about what they saw in their section of the photo as well as what they believed may be happening in the whole photo, even though they had not seen the other pieces. This writing assignment activity was one of many suggestions teachers received during a January meeting with a consultant from the Kentucky Department of Education. The activity encourages the students' creativity and draws on their prior knowledge while asking them to think outside the box.

2011-2012 deer season ends with fourth largest overall harvest

Kentucky’s 2011-12 white-tailed deer season ended Jan. 16 with hunters posting the fourth largest overall harvest ever recorded. “The 119,656 deer taken was the highest total since the 2008-2009 season,” said Tina Brunjes, deer program coordinator for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. “Good hunting weather may have been a contributing factor to the excellent harvest during the last two months of the season.”

Hunters bagged a record harvest of 12,989 in December, which surpassed the previous record by 4,261 set in December 2004. “Muzzleloader hunters were responsible for that big jump, checking in 10,536 deer during their nine-day late season that ran Dec. 10-18,” said Brunjes.

January’s harvest was excellent, too with hunters telechecking 2,628 deer - just 73 short of last year’s record harvest for the month.

Overall, hunters reported taking 55 percent male deer and 45 percent female deer. Modern firearms hunters bagged 83,357 deer, muzzleloader hunters 15,161 deer and archers 18,169 deer.

“For the last 10 years our harvest has gone up and down a bit, but overall the trend is stable,” said Brunjes. “That’s a good sign.”

This past season, Kentucky had 90,247 successful deer hunters, but 77 percent (69,776 hunters) took just one deer. “Seventeen percent of our successful deer hunters (15,118 hunters) took two deer, and six percent of our successful deer hunters (5,353 hunters) took three or more deer,” said Brunjes.

By zone, hunters harvested 52,664 deer in the 35 Zone 1 counties; 30,160 deer in the 27 Zone 2 counties; 25,324 deer in the 33 Zone 3 counties and 11,505 in the 25 Zone 4 counties.

The bulk of Kentucky counties are in deer management Zones 2 and 3. Brunjes said there’s still work to be done in the Zone 1 counties, where deer densities are too high, and in the Zone 4 counties, where deer densities are below target levels.

Archers and muzzleloader hunters took 61 percent antlerless deer. Modern gun hunters bagged the lowest percent of antlerless deer 38 percent.

Crossbow hunters posted the highest percent of antlerless deer in the harvest, 63 percent. They also established a new harvest record in the process. Crossbow hunters bagged 1,969 deer, which represents about 1.6 percent of the overall harvest.

For the third consecutive season, archers posted a harvest record by taking 18,169 deer, about 15 percent of the total harvest.

“Overall, the hunters we have are being more successful,” said Brunjes. “We hope that all this success will help them in mentoring new hunters.”

Sports in Kentucky

by Bob Watkins

Chapel Hill to Nashville, Kentucky has bruised some psyche(s)

We arrive at a place in winter when fans aligned with a college team in Kentucky can bask a little, brag a little, second guess a little, plan a little and expect a lot more.

KENTUCKY

In Lexington it's mid-Sweetheart month and the Wildcats have been all that. With a run of 17 wins in a row, Kentucky is Pontiff of all it surveys once more. A lofty perch in the national pecking order of underling courtiers called Duke, Syracuse and Tar Heel. A condo Big Blue Nation tax payers expect to occupy every winter.

John Calipari's Kentucky has not only beaten opponents, but bruised a psyche or two in Chapel Hill, Louisville, Knoxville, Nashville and Gainesville where the Gators may have had a nervous breakdown. In demoralizing ways. (See Anthony Davis blocked shots file), teams aren't the same after Kentucky.

As UK rolls on amid gathering whispers of run-the-table, what certainly comes with current prosperity and win-out possibility and bandwagon delirium, is an echo from a time distant. "If we don't win the national championship our season will be a disappointment," - UK fan, 1978.

Fans, certainly Calipari, try to quell such alarmism with these things.

- St. Louis, March 27, 1978, thanks to Jack Givens, things turned out well enough.

- And, a reminder to savor a journey's glimmer moments, let destination take care of itself.

MURRAY STATE

Over three and a half months, the Racers turned back all-comers, climbed the polls and became America's Little Darling. Then, Tennessee STATE went to Murray. Before Steve Prohm could say "whaa' happened?" the No. 7 ranked Racers had a loss at home and had a new title from ESPN, bubble team.

This week, moment of truth time for bubble team Murray and for its next opponent also, St. Mary's.

To get a new EKG read on Murray State's heart and St. Mary's (23-3), the Gaels visits this weekend fresh off a 73-59 whuppin' at Gonzaga.

LOUISVILLE

Borrowing a metaphor from nearby Churchill Downs and before the Cardinals played No. 2 Syracuse Monday, Rick Pitino's team looks like a team come to the far turn in the Derby, two lengths off the lead ... with fresh legs and nose in the wind. A team with a good run still in the tank and high seed hopes, Big East and beyond.

Wayne Blackshear added to his roster gives the man who loves options, new ones for a stretch run loaded with promise and Big East farewell implications. West Virginia won't be back, neither will Syracuse.

So, King Kentucky, bubble team Murray State, and Big Mo Louisville, are all headed to a party in March.

Postscript: Here's an NCAA Tournament hope Murray State is dispatched to what could be the best chance-to-advance region, out West.

WESTERN & HARPER HEADS

At Western Kentucky interim coach Ray Harper remains the people's choice and received a ringing endorsement from a local newspaper recently, but it's still wait-and-see for the man whose supporters have started to call themselves Harper Heads. I like it.

Still, John Pelphrey and Richard Pitino will be interviewed for the Hilltoppers job. For different reasons neither is a fit at Western.

As Ralph Willard did before him, young Pitino is shopping for a starter head job. And, as Willard job jumped to Pitt, Pitino would keep his bags packed.

Pelphrey has already done the Sun Belt, coaching at South Alabama before a too-soon (bad) job jump to Arkansas. Pelphrey never looked good wearing red. To regain career momentum and stay on track for chance at his dream job, the Paintsville native's next head job should be at a school in a major conference, preferably in the south.

At Western in 2012, stability, recruiting and loyalty are priorities. Harper's credentials fill the bill. Besides, Harper is best candidate for a four-five year contract that ought to require of all other applicants, a lie detector test.

Now, about an endorsement from the Godfather, John Oldham?

CAROLE KING 'N ME

Singer-songwriter extraordinaire Carole King had a milestone birthday last week. Me too.

King is old enough to have penned the You've Got a Friend classic for her pal, crooner James Taylor. Yet, at 70, she's still a beauty.

As for me, a reader e-mailed last week with a reminder that I'm old enough to remember Adolph Rupp and able to skip past comparing Kentucky phenom Anthony Davis to Marcus Camby and go straight to Hall of Famer Bill Russell.

It's true. At 19, Davis is ahead of Camby at any stage of the latter's career and has far more than Russell's shot-block

Panthers fall to Mustangs

On Tuesday night, February 7, the Augusta Panthers visited the Bishop Brossart Mustangs hoping to get revenge for the loss the Mustangs pinned on them in the Class A Tournament. Brossart had been struggling offensively of late but that was not to be the case in this game. Although at first things looked good for the Panthers as they jumped out to a 5-0 lead. But that was a short lived lead as the Mustangs stormed back to the tune of a 16-2 run to close the quarter and lead 16-7 after 1. In the 2nd quarter Brossart continued to leave their shooting woes behind as they tallied 23 more points to take the lead at the half, 39-19.

In the 3rd quarter Augusta picked it up defensively holding the Mustangs to only 9 points but scoring was still pretty hard for the Panthers to come by due to Brossart's size. Augusta still trailed 48-33 going into the 4th quarter. The Panthers kept working hard in the 4th quarter out-scoring the Mustangs once again but could not get over the hump and lost, 59-48. The loss dropped the Panthers to 13-11.

Scoring: Bach 17, Moore 11, Kelsch 8, Appelman 5, Krebs 5, Hamilton 2.

Panthers beat Cougars 84-42

On Thursday night, February 9, the Augusta Panthers and Calvary Christian Cougars finally got together to play a game that had been moved twice previously. The Panthers wasted no time jumping all over the Cougars in the 1st quarter. They scored the first 12 points of the game en route to a 25-6 lead. The 2nd quarter was much of the same as Augusta continued to dominate. They forced 21 turnovers, scored 26 points off of those turnovers and led 41-15 at the break.

In the second half the instincts. Davis runs the floor as well as Russell did, and the kid has a soft-touch jump shot with range.

My advanced age allows the advantage of knowing University of Kentucky basketball has had 38 All Americans (chosen 56 times). A dozen played center including Hall of Famers Cliff Hagan and Dan Issel. Davis' game is already broader and better rounded than all 12.

Tragedy is the decadent NBA will make Davis a millionaire too soon which squelches any argument on whether or not the 19-year-old is best of them all at Kentucky. Meanwhile, Carole King is 70 and she is still a beauty.

ROLL ON, BURGIN!

Burgin High won its 20th basketball game of the season last week.

America's No. 11097th ranked team, Burgin last had a 20-win season four decades ago.

With three regular season games left (at this writing) and district tournament ahead, coach Don Irvine's team (20-7) was three shy of establishing a new school record for wins.

If you'd like to know more about the Burgin Bulldogs, Google Burgin Bulldogs Basketball on the internet. Buy a tee-shirt.

Meanwhile, roll on, Burgin!

PARTING SHOT

Nicknames and poem writers always surface around Kentucky basketball this time of year during successful seasons. This time however, UK fans who issue affectionate monikers, have been scooped on by Anthony Davis.

Basketball fans at Georgia got in early, anointed Kentucky's center, The Brow. It's creative and makes us smile. I like it.

Davis' reaction? A stoic "whatever."

And so it goes.

Panthers improve to 15-11 for season

On Friday night, February 10, it was preview time as the Bracken County Polar Bears came to visit in a preview of the 39th district tournament semifinal slated for February 21st in Brooksville. Each team had won one of the previous meetings. It was clear from the start that Augusta was focused on sending a message to the Polar Bears as they jumped out 10-0 before a Bracken timeout and 3 Josh Cummins 3 pointers closed the gap. His third 3 made it 12-9 Panthers. That would be the closest that the Polar Bears would get the rest of the way. Augusta tacked on 4 more to make it 16-9 after 1 quarter. In the 2nd quarter Augusta continued to control the game. The Panthers were dominate inside outrebounding the Polar Bears 15-8 and holding them to only 2 points in the paint. Augusta led at the break, 30-18.

In the 3rd quarter Bracken County came out hoping to get back in the game. But Augusta wasn't about to allow that. The Polar Bears turned to Josh Cummins in the first half as he dropped in 13 points but he was held to only 2 in the second half as Augusta clamped down on him and kept Bracken at a safe distance and won the game, 58-45. The win made the Panthers 15-11. The first time they've won at least 15 games since the 2007-08 season.

Scoring: Bach 16, Moore 15, Appelman 11, Hamilton 8, Krebs 4, Kelsch 4.,

Conservation Dist. Assistance for Dead Livestock Removal

The Bracken County Conservation District, with help through a grant from the Kentucky Division of Conservation, is providing assistance to landowners for removal of dead livestock from Bracken County land. Proper disposal of dead farm animals is important to human health as well as your herd's health. Leaving carcasses in the field will encourage coyotes to be a problem on your land.

We have a new licensed hauler for Bracken County, HARMON'S DEAD ANIMAL PICK-UP SERVICE, phone number (859) 567-2111. To have livestock removed follow these instructions:

- *call as soon as possible after death of animal
- *have animal on a hard surface free of any enclosures (will not go into pastures or lots)
- *give good directions to your farm
- *indicate type of animal to be picked up
- * provide phone number where you can be reached.

Harmon Brothers will pick up Monday-Friday 8 a.m.-4 p.m. They have an answering machine, so be sure to leave all information listed above.

Bracken County are $100.00 for horses and $75.00 for all other livestock. The Bracken County Conservation District will pay $50.00 toward each animal until the grant funds are exhausted. These cost share dollars will be paid directly to Harmon's for each landowner using this service. The landowner's part of pickup will need to be paid to Harmon Brothers directly. They will pick up cows, goats, hogs, horses, and sheep. Again, the Bracken County Conservation District will only cost share on animals within Bracken County.

Historical Society Publishes New Books

Rosemarie B. Pell has finished two new publications which will be added to the list of publications offered by the Bracken County Historical Society. These two new publications list the school census reports from 1894 to 1897. Since the 1890 US Federal Census was destroyed by fire, it is difficult to find records that list names and ages for children during that time period. The School Census books can help fill in the gap of the destroyed 1890 census as they list the names of parents, guardians and children between 6 and 20 years of age. Starting in the 1896 reports some of the entries even show the birthdates and the parents' ages and year of marriage. The school district names and numbers are not listed as these changed often and there were students from numerous towns in a school district; however town names and/or addresses were given with the student on each form and these are included. The school census reports are in two volumes which are School Census 1894 & 1895 and School Census Volume 2 1896 & 1897. Each volume sells for $30.00.

The Historical Society has also reprinted copies of the Bracken County History book and it is available again for $30.00.

These books plus any of the other numerous publications available from the Society can be purchased on Fridays or Saturdays at the Society office or anytime during the week from John Workman in the PVA office. If you would like to have the books mailed, please call the office to find out the amount of the P & H, which would be included your cost.

The next meeting of the Bracken County Historical Society will be Tuesday, February 28th at 7 p.m. at the Extension office. After a short business meeting, members and friends will judge the 4-H history posters from all three schools in the county. The best posters from each class will be displayed in the museum cases in the hallway of the Courthouse during the next few months. Membership in the society is open to everyone and all are welcome to attend this meeting.

Girl Scouts visit, help out at Bracken Co. Animal Shelter

The Bracken County Animal Shelter recently enjoyed Girl Scout Troop 557 led by Gwen Pollard. After a short course on "Safety Around Dogs", the girls washed three pups, helped prepare one for immediate adoption, walked, and played with several dogs. It's very important to know how to greet a dog, what to do if you see a lost dog, respect a dog's space and understanding what a dog is trying to tell you.

The Bracken County Animal Shelter is open Monday thru Friday 8 a.m. - 3 p.m., by appointment on Saturday mornings and closed Sundays and Holidays. Since they respond to all animal abandonment, neglect and abuse related calls, the best time to find someone at the shelter is between 10:30 a.m. and 12 noon. For more information or to report abuse or neglect call 735-3475.
